

PRESIDENTS OF MIDTOWN ATLANTA ROTARY

NAME	YEAR	ADDRESS	BIO
William O. Riley "Bill" Spouse: Alice	1970-1971	290 Riverhill Dr. N.W. Atlanta, GA 30328 404-252-1769	Bill was President and CEO of Atlantic Steel and was intimately involved in the negotiations to sell its property to Joe Jacoby, who has redeveloped the former steel mill into Atlantic Station.
Richard H. Jennings "Dick" Spouse: Trish	1977-1978	2620 Woodward Way, NW Atlanta, GA 30305 404-233-3440	Dick was in charge of governmental affairs for the First National Bank. I believe he also managed the banking relationship with the City of Atlanta. I'll bet you wouldn't lend the city any money today, would you?
R. Don Comstock Spouse: Mary	1978-1979	3400 Ridgewood Rd. NW Atlanta, GA 30327 404-355-6668 No e-mail	According to my father, when Don Comstock was born in Miami, no one lived there except Seminoles. Don was invited to play Class B professional baseball but chose instead to accept a baseballs scholarship at Ole Miss. Later, as Southern Vice President for Capitol Records, Don signed a number of talents to recording contracts. One of them was a young North Carolinian named Andy Griffith. Andy's recording entitled "What It Was Was Football" became one of the most popular comedic monologues of all time. After leaving Capital, Don founded four companies of his own, including one that provided distribution for Columbia Records.

Hulett D. Sumlin Spouse: Linda Lou	1981-1982	195 Nacoochee Dr., NW Atlanta, GA 30305 404-355-3002 No e-mail	Hulett spent 35 years with Piedmont Hospital; for the final 27 of those years, he was CEO. When you next drive over the dam at Lake Burton, wave to Hulett. His house is visible from the dam. Hulett, is it alright if we drop in for lunch?
Cecil D. Malone, Jr. Spouse: Edith	1982-1983	1200 Longcourt Dr., NW Atlanta, GA 30327 404-237-0569 No e-mail	As WWII drew to a close, Cecil Malone flew into Japan before the peace treaty had even been signed. He was unsure what sort of reception he would be given, but, as the officer in charge of communications for the ceremony of surrender, he had to be there ahead of the surrender. Shortly thereafter, he returned to Atlanta and founded Malone Construction Company. It built many of the city's finest mansions. In 1959, it entered commercial construction, especially high-end interior finish work for clients such as the North American HQ of Porche, Emory University, Coca Cola, Georgia Pacific, and Delta Air Lines.
L. Thomas Robinson, Jr. Spouse: Gloria	1988-1989	505 Read Ln NE Atlanta, GA 30328 (404) 255-5632	During his career with The First National Bank and its acquirer, Wachovia, Tom was in charge of managing all the bank's Atlanta branches south of I-20. Tom now spends much of his time depleting the fish stocks in Lake Lanier; he and his wife recently caught 17 bass in two hours. Tom will be catching fish for a very long time. His father died at 102 and his mother will be 99 this year.

Marcus A. Cook III Spouse: Mary Ellen	1989-1990	414 Peachtree Battle Avenue Atlanta, GA 30305 404-355-6722	As an organizer of the social group known as the Buckhead Boys, Marcus Cook knows where the money is. Recognizing that, the Citizens and Southern National Bank named him as an executive in the Trust Department at its Buckhead Branch.
C. Cyrus "Cy" Malone III Spouse: Pam	1991-1992	2319 Dellwood Dr. Atlanta, GA 30305 404-351-2143 H 404-266-2873 O	Cecil and Cy Malone were each presidents of our club. Cy is a named partner in the law firm of Freisem, Bacon Swann and Malone. He structures the acquisition and sales of businesses and is also quite active as a commercial litigator. Among his clients are many automotive dealers. Cy, right now, they must need your help more than ever.
William H. Schneidewind, Jr. Spouse: Bobbie	1993-1994	5274 Vernon Springs Trail Atlanta, GA 30327 770-955-1657 slewis@sfnonline.com Address confirmed	Bill Schneidewind is the only member of the club to serve in both WWII and Korea. For many years, he has been an executive with John Hancock Financial Services in the areas of insurance and estate planning. Exactly one year ago today, Bill contracted double bacterial pneumonia while of a cruise and spent 106 days in hospitals before returning home. It is wonderful to see Bill regaining his strength.
John Carter Wyle Spouse: Barbara	1995-1996	639 Norfleet Rd., NW Atlanta, GA 30305 jwyle@rosser.com	John Wyle and I served in the U.S. Navy at the same time. While I was protecting the beaches of the Mediterranean and the Caribbean, John was ducking bullets along the rivers of South Vietnam. Today he is a Vice President, Director and Shareholder in the Architectural firm of Rosser International. He also heads its Atlanta Practice Group. Although Rosser designs facilities for the

			judiciary, sports, education and broadcasting, I always associate John with the jails he has designed. None of our members have tried any of them yet, but we understand they are VERY nice.
Gary D. Zweifel	1996-1997		Perry Raulet is not our only representative from the University of Virginia School of Law. Gary Zweifel, another graduate of UVA, heads his own law firm. He frequently lectures and been published many times on the topics of estates, trusts, and guardianships. Gary was the perfect person to lead our club in the establishment of the Midtown Atlanta Rotary Foundation.
T. Myron Martin Spouse: Emily	1997-1998	4785 Riversound Drive Snellville, GA, 30039 Home Ph: (770) 484-9244 Bus. Email:tmyron3@bellsouth.net	Myron Martin was a Business Manager with two of the nation's largest companies: Alcoa and Honeywell. Later, at Bull Information Systems he directed nearly 800 buildings and a staff of 380 employees. He must have found time to be a pretty good father too. His son, Zack, is one of the ministers at Dunwoody United Methodist Church.

Leonard E. Borg Spouse: Mary	1998-1999	470 Broadland Rd., NW Atlanta, GA 30342 404-237-1921	Leonard Borg the elder was President of Reid Laboratories, where he met his wife, Mary. He opened the State of Georgia's first manufacturing facility for pharmaceuticals. Later, Leonard had a second career in real estate.
Richard S. Childers Spouse: Deborah	1999-2000	2222 Bohler Road Atlanta, GA 30327 404-351-1387 Richard@childersassociates.com	Richard is President of Childers Associates, a commercial appraisal firm. His firm supervised all appraisals for the properties that became the Centennial Olympic Park and also those needed for development of the 17th Street Bridge, connecting Bill Riley's Atlantic Station complex with the rest of Midtown.
Phillip J. Corwin Spouse: Jennifer	2001-2002	528 Arden at Argonne Atlanta GA 30305 404-841-0304 philcoinc@hotmail.com	Phil not only graduated from the Ivy League, but also from one of the nation's most celebrated prep schools. He is presently Director, Marketing, UPS Supply Chain Solutions, a rapidly growing division of UPS that services its clients' clients in areas where a knowledge of logistics is essential. As merely one example, if Toshiba sells one of us a computer and it later needs repair, Phil's division of UPS arranges to ship that computer to a central facility, repair it, and ship it back to us.

Sandra L. Murray Spouse: Michael Clifford	2003-2004	3212 Saybrook Dr., NE Atlanta, GA 30319 404-816-3272 sandymurray@comcast.net	Sandy Murray is a math major from LSU. She and her husband, Michael Clifford, are both from Baton Rouge, but didn't meet until they each relocated to Atlanta. Together, they founded a firm to teach the use of computers. When Sandy isn't on her computer, she might be pedaling her bicycle on the Silver Comet Trail from Atlanta to Anniston, Alabama and back.
Stephen C. Andrews Spouse: Doris "Dee" Downs	2004-2005	1780 Friar Tuck Road Atlanta, GA 30309 404-892-4898 sandrews@bralaw.com	Steve has been named one of Georgia's Superlawyers for the past 6 years, one the state's top 100 attorneys by Atlanta Magazine and part of the "Legal Elite" by Georgia Trends. His wife is the Honorable Doris L. Downs, Chief Judge of the Fulton County Superior Court. Golfers take note, before becoming a lawyer, Steve was awarded a Robert Tyre Jones academic scholarship for study at the University of St. Andrews in Scotland.

A. Coile Estes Spouse: Mike Mears	2005-2006	1 Wimberly Court Decatur, GA 30030 acestes@mindspring.com	Coile Estes also received a law degree but decided to sell fire insurance instead. That is to say, for 9 years, she served as Minister of the Morningside Presbyterian Church. Now she prefers to function as an interim pastor. Coile has served as an Adjunct Professor at Columbia Theological Seminary, has written on historic preservation, and rescues abandoned animals. Coile can calm even the wildest stray dog, coax it into her car, and find it a home.
Russell J. Williams Spouse: Julie	2007-2008	3009 Rivermeade Drive Atlanta GA 30327 404-355-1908 rwilliams@snftechs.com	For many years, Russ served as Vice President of operations for the 4 A.G. Rhodes Nursing Homes. Recently he has launched a firm to advise others on managing care for our senior citizens.

Barbara B. Rose Spouse: Dick Martin	2008-2009	4787 Riverview Road Atlanta, GA 30327 770-952-1604 ngpinc@comcast.net	For reasons that will be apparent to all, Barbara entered the business world as a model. Before moving to her second career, Barbara had been a runway model for Calvin Klein and landed a small part in the movie “Wanda”. She was the teller who gave the bank robber all the money. Ever since then she has been in the business of raising money on behalf of not-for-profit institutions.
--	------------------	--	---

A History of The Midtown Atlanta Rotary Club

On February 23, 1905 a young attorney in Chicago named Paul P. Harris organized a fellowship composed of businessmen from different occupations, without restrictions on politics or religion. Growing rapidly, Rotary opened its sixteenth club by 1910 and its first club outside the U.S. in 1912.

By 1913, Rotary had captured the attention of four prominent Atlantans: Ivan Allen, Sr. (founder of the city's leading office supply store and father of Atlanta's famous mayor), Henry W. Grady, Jr. (son of the prominent newspaperman), Evelyn Harris (son of Joel Chandler Harris), and a leading insurance executive named Howard Goldert. While in Baltimore, they learned of Rotary and attended their first meeting. The four established Georgia's first Rotary club in the former law office of Woodrow Wilson at the corner of Marietta and Forsyth Streets on June 18, 1913. Shortly after they founded The Rotary Club of Atlanta, clubs followed in Savannah, Rome, Macon, and Augusta.

Believing that a club should be created to serve the Midtown area, Frederick Storey gathered 4 friends to assist in its creation: Dr. John H. Ridley, Rufus H. Carswell, Bill Finch, and Lawrence deGives. On May 24, 1956, 25 charter members were inducted during a dinner at the Piedmont Driving Club. Ivan Allen, Sr., a founder of the Rotary Club of Atlanta, regaled the gathering with his recollections of Rotary in Atlanta. Installed as the first President of The Brookwood Rotary Club was Frederick G. Storey, whose Storey Theaters was the largest locally owned chain of cinemas. During World War II, Mr. Story had amassed a distinguished military record as the captain of a destroyer escort engaged in many of the major naval battles of the South Pacific. His immediate successor as president of Brookwood Rotary, a leading obstetrician and gynecologist named Dr. John Ridley, instigated the long-standing tradition that our club does not sing!

After its founding in 1956 as The Brookwood Rotary, our club changed its name to The Brookwood-Midtown Rotary in 1985-86, and finally to The Midtown Atlanta Rotary in 1995-96.

Georgia was originally bisected into two districts of Rotary: 240 on the west and 241 on the east. Brookwood Rotary fell within district 240. Today Georgia encompasses three districts: 6900, 6910, and 6920. Our District 6900 includes 4,800 members spread over 69 clubs in the western third of the state. Rotary International has grown to include 29,000 clubs with 1.2 million Rotarians in 161 countries.

The name “Rotary” was coined from the initial practice of rotating venues weekly between the offices of various members. At times in our own club’s history, we seemed nearly as peripatetic as Rotary’s first club in Chicago. After meeting initially at Remond’s Restaurant on Peachtree Street between 10th and 11th Streets, we shifted to the Tikki Club in 1958. Located across Peachtree Road from Piedmont Hospital, the Tikki was later rechristened as The Racquet Club. After that restaurant closed in 1970, we shifted our banner to the Sheraton-Atlanta on Spring Street near North Avenue. When the parking became more expensive than the meals, we tried brief stints at the Peachtree Plaza Hotel, the Squire Inn, and other eateries. In 1972, we settled at Swain’s Steak House on Peachtree Park Drive. After a fire destroyed Swain’s in 1980, a substitute was difficult to find. The Brass Rail proved so crowded that, when Cecil Malone arrived late on one occasion, he was sent packing for lack of a seat. As the chefs at Benihana whirled their huge knives about, our members wagered on how many fingers would land in the food. No wonder that we soon lost our zest for Asian cuisine! Swain's reopened only briefly in 1981 before closing permanently. Ever since then we have regarded The Ansley Golf Club as our permanent home. Although we were diverted to The Druid Hills Country Club for a year when Ansley razed its old clubhouse, we were ensconced in Ansley Golf Club's gorgeous new clubhouse by December 1999.

The composition of our membership has grown more inclusive over time. Our club's early members were referred to alternately as either the "Society Group" or the "Lace-Curtain Boys". White dinner jackets were required for our formal dinner, with members being differentiated from guests by string ties fastened with an emblem of Rotary. In 1989, Rotary International altered its rules to allow the admission of women. In that same year, Clare Whitman was admitted as our club's first female member. We now count 16 females among our 90 members. This year Sharon Moore presides as our first distaff president.

Other rules have also changed. Strict geographical guidelines once determined the club to which an applicant could apply. An exception was only granted if the club located nearest an applicant's address would grant a waiver. Geographical restrictions have since been eased.

Our club's earliest support of its community was solely financial. Beneficiaries of our largess have included such non-profit institutions as The Atlanta Speech School; The Sheltering Arms Children's Home; The Salvation Army Summer Camp for Boys; Straight, Inc.; The Buckhead Little League; The Fernbank Science Center; The Atlanta Food Bank; and The Bridge. To provide an ongoing source of funding for our local community, The Midtown Atlanta Rotary Foundation was established in 1996-97. In recent years, our programs of community service have increasingly been characterized by our hands-on involvement. We served as judges for programs of The Boy Scouts, collected clothing for Goodwill Industries, stretched our legs in the 10K Hunger Walk, assisted in the 1996 Olympics, golfed in a charitable tournament for the Tommy Nobis Center, manned booths at the Lady Tara Golf Tournament to benefit Georgia's Special Olympics, raised $85,200 for the "I Have a Dream" project through special showings of films at the Fox Theatre, constructed houses for Habitat for Humanity, provided weekly counseling to runaways at the Salvation Army's Girls Lodge, and planted shrubs at sites selected by Hands-On Atlanta.

Midtown Atlanta Rotary has also extended a helping hand beyond the nation's borders. Dr. Jim Funk, beginning in 1956, and later Dr. Skoot Dimon have each donated 7-10 days annually to staff the Hospital Albert Schweitzer of Haiti. In their support, our club has funded hospital beds and the drilling of wells for potable water. We helped establish a medical lab in Russia and a clinic in South Africa. Our club has not only provided significant financial contributions for The Rotary Foundation's Polio Plus campaign to eliminate polio, but has also supplied computers for Zimbabwe's Polio Plus Campaign.

We have also extended hospitality to an array of foreign students and visitors. Beginning in the second year of our club, we have either hosted or co-hosted at least one foreign student annually for a year of collegiate study in Georgia through the Georgia Rotary Student Program. One year we hosted two! No other state's Rotary clubs have such a program. Through the Rotary Family Exchange, members of Midtown Atlanta have swapped visits with clubs in Germany twice, Scotland twice, and Brazil once.

One of our first programs to be recognized as the best in District 6900 taught business to high school students. A perennially popular vocational service program is our annual luncheon to honor STAR students and their favorite teachers. When these gifted students rise to offer their invariably candid plans for the future and their explanations of how they chose their favorite teacher, they often bring down the house! Another eagerly anticipated program honors the year's most outstanding acts of heroism by a local policeman and a fireman. The valor of these exemplary public servants is too often overlooked.

Such is the history of our club from 1956 to 2001. We have won awards for attendance, vocational service, and scrap books, to name only a few. We have also received Best Club Awards and Presidential Citations. True to Rotary's motto of "Service Above Self", our prodigious efforts have lent a helping hand to scores of institutions and a multitude of individuals; nevertheless, having been enriched by the lasting friendships, fond memories, and enjoyment that Rotary fosters, we must confess to having benefited no less ourselves.

PRESIDENTS OF MIDTOWN ATLANTA ROTARY

NAME	YEAR	A (ALIVE), CONFIRMED DECEASED (CD) OR THOUGHT DECEASED (TD)	ADDRESS	BIO
William O. Riley "Bill" Spouse: ??	1970-1971	A	290 Riverhill Dr. N.W. Atlanta, GA 30328 404-252-1769	Bill was President and CEO of Atlantic Steel and was intimately involved in the negotiations to sell its property to Joe Jacoby, who has redeveloped the former steel mill into Atlantic Station.
Richard H. Jennings "Dick" Spouse: Trish	1977-1978	A	2620 Woodward Way, NW Atlanta, GA 30305 404-233-3440	Dick was in charge of governmental affairs for the First National Bank. I believe he also managed the banking relationship with the City of Atlanta. I'll bet you would lend the city any money today, would you?

R. Don Comstock Spouse: Mary	1978-1979	A	3400 Ridgewood Rd. NW Atlanta, GA 30327 404-355-6668 No e-mail	My dad insists that when Don Comstock was born in Miami, no one lived there except Seminoles. Don left Florida to attend Ole Miss on a baseball scholarship. Later, as an executive with RCA Records, he signed a number of talents to recording contracts, including a young comedian named Andy Griffith. Shortly after the release in 1953 of Andy's recording entitled "What It Was Was Football", it became one of the most popular comedic monologues of all time.
Hulett D. Sumlin Spouse: Linda Lou	1981-1982	A	195 Nacoochee Dr., NW Atlanta, GA 30305 404-355-3002 No e-mail	Hulett spent 35 years with Piedmont Hospital; for the final 27 of those years, he was CEO. When you next drive over the bridge at Lake Burton, Hulett's house will be in view. Hulett, are you still spending much of his time at Lake Burton?

Cecil D. Malone, Jr. Spouse: Edith	1982-1983	A	1200 Longcourt Dr., NW Atlanta, GA 30327 404-237-0569 No e-mail Son says phone number and address still good	As WWII drew to a close, Cecil Malone flew into Japan before the peace treaty had even been signed. He was unsure what sort of reception he would be given, but, as the officer in charge of communications for the ceremony of surrender, he had to be there ahead of the surrender. Shortly thereafter, he returned to Atlanta and founded Malone Construction Company. It built many of the city's finest mansions. In 1959, it entered commercial construction, especially high-end interior finish work for clients such as the North American HQ of Porche, Emory University, Coca Cola, Georgia Pacific, Delta Air Lines, and so on.
L. Thomas Robinson, Jr. Spouse: Gloria	1988-1989	A	505 Read Ln NE Atlanta, GA 30328 (404) 255-5632	During his career with The First National Bank and its acquirer, Wachovia, Tom was in charge of managing all the bank's Atlanta branches south of I-20. Tom now spends much of his time depleting Lake Lanier of fish; he and his wife recently caught 17 bass in two hours. Tom will be catching fish for a very long time. His father died at 102 and his mother will be 99 this year.
Marcus A. Cook III Spouse: Mary Ellen	1989-1990	A	414 Peachtree Battle Avenue Atlanta, GA 30305	As an organizer of the social group known as the Buckhead Boys, Marcus Cook knows where the money is. Recognizing 404-355-6722	that, the Citizens and Southern National Bank named him as an executive in the Trust Department at its Buckhead Branch.

C. Cyrus Malone III Spouse: Pam	1991-1992	A	2319 Dellwood Dr. Atlanta, GA 30305 404-351-2143 H 404-266-2873 O	Cecil and Cy Malone were each presidents of our club. Cy is a named partner in the law firm of Freisem, Bacon Swann and Malone. Cy structures the acquisition and sales of businesses and also is quite active as a commercial litigator. Among his clients are many automotive dealers. Right now, they probably need his help more than ever.
William H. Schneidewind, Jr. Spouse: Bobbie	1993-1994	A	5274 Vernon Springs Trail Atlanta, GA 30327 770-955-1657 slewis@sfnonline.com Address confirmed	Bill Schneidewind is the only member of the club to serve in both WWII and Korea. For many years, he has been an executive with John Hancock Financial Services in the areas of insurance and estate planning. For those of you who don't know, Bill contracted double bacterial pneumonia while of a cruise early last year and spent 106 days in hospitals before returning home. It is wonderful to see Bill back on his feet.
John Carter Wyle Spouse: Barbara	1995-1996	A	639 Norfleet Rd., NW Atlanta, GA 30305 jwyle@rosser.com	John Wyle and I served in the U.S. Navy at the same time. While I was protecting the beaches of the Mediterranean and the Caribbean, John was ducking bullets as he plied the rivers of South Vietnam. Today he is a Vice President, Director and Shareholder in the Architectural firm of Rosser International. He also heads the Atlanta Practice Group. Although Rosser designs facilities for the judiciary, sports, education and broadcasting, it is perhaps best known for jails. None of our members have tried any of them yet, but we understand they are VERY nice.

Gary D. Zweifel	1996-1997	A	???????	Perry Raullet is not our only representative from the University of Virginia School of Law. Gary Zweifel, another graduate of UVA, heads his own law firm. He has frequently lectured and been published on the topics of estates, trusts, and guardianships.
T. Myron Martin Spouse: Emily	1997-1998	A	4785 Riversound Drive Snellville, GA, 30039 Home Ph: (770) 484-9244 Bus. Email:tmyron3@bellsouth.net	Myron Martin was a Business Manager with two of the nation's largest companies: Alcoa and Honeywell. Later, at Bull Information Systems he directed nearly 800 buildings and a staff of 380 employees. He must have found time to be a pretty good father too. His son, Zack, is one of the ministers at Dunwoody United Methodist Church.
Leonard E. Borg Spouse: Mary	1998-1999	A	470 Broadland Rd., NW Atlanta, GA 30342 404-237-1921	Leonard Borg the elder was President of Reid Laboratories, where he met his wife, Mary. He opened the State of Georgia's first manufacturing facility for pharmaceuticals. Later, Leonard had a second career in real estate.

Richard S. Childers Spouse: Deborah	1999-2000	A	2222 Bohler Road Atlanta, GA 30327 404-351-1387 Richard@childersassociates.com	Richard is President of Childers Associates, a commercial appraisal firm. His firm supervised all appraisals for the properties that became the Centennial Olympic Park and also served as the lead appraiser in valuing the properties acquired for development of the 17th Street Bridge, connecting Bill Riley's Atlantic Station complex with the rest of Midtown.
Phillip J. Corwin Spouse: Jennifer	2001-2002	A	528 Arden at Argonne Atlanta GA 30305 404-841-0304 philcoinc@hotmail.com	Phil not only graduated from the Ivy League; he also graduated from one of the nation's most celebrated prep schools. He is presently Director, Marketing, UPS Supply Chain Solutions, a rapidly growing division of UPS that services its clients' clients in areas where a knowledge of logistics is essential. As merely one example, if Toshiba sells one of us a computer and it later needs repair, Phil's division of UPS arranges to ship that computer to a central facility, repair it, and ship it back to the consumer.

Sandra L. Murray Spouse: Michael Clifford	2003-2004	A	3212 Saybrook Dr., NE Atlanta, GA 30319 404-816-3272 sandymurray@comcast.net	Sandy Murray is a math major from LSU. She and her husband, Michael Clifford, are both from Baton Rouge, but didn't meet until they each relocated to Atlanta. Together, they founded a firm to teach the use of computers. When Sandy isn't on her computer, she may sometimes be found pedalling her bicycle all the way to Anniston, Alabama and back.
Stephen C. Andrews Spouse: Doris "Dee" Downs	2004-2005	A	1780 Friar Tuck Road Atlanta, GA 30309 404-892-4898 sandrews@bralaw.com	Steve has been named one of Georgia's Superlawyers for the past 6 years, one the state's top 100 attorneys by Atlanta Magazine and part of the "Legal Elite" by Georgia Trends. His wife is the Honorable Doris L. Downs, Chief Judge of the Fulton County Superior Court. When asked whether his wife ever presides over his cases, he replied that his wife is always on his case. Steve, it never pays to argue with a judge. And golfers take note, before becoming a lawyer, Steve was awarded a Robert Tyre Jones academic scholarship for study at the University of St. Andrews in Scotland.

A. Coile Estes Spouse: Mike Mears	2005-2006	A	1 Wimberly Court Decatur, GA 30030 aces@mindspring.com	Coile Estes also received a law degree but decided to sell fire insurance instead. That is to say, for 9 years, she served as Minister of the Morningside Presbyterian Church. Now she prefers to serve as an interim pastor. In that role, she currently spends several days a week at a church in lovely Madison, Georgia Coile has served as an Adjunct Professor at Columbia Theological Seminary and has written on historic preservation. Call Mike Mears mmears@johnmarshall.edu (404) 872-3593 Ext. 272
Russell J. Williams Spouse: Julie	2007-2008	A	3009 Rivermeade Drive Atlanta GA 30327 404-355-1908 rwilliams@snftechs.com	After serving for many years as Vice President of operations for the 4 A.G. Rhodes Nursing Homes, Russ has launched a firm to advise others on managing care for the elderly.

Barbara B. Rose Spouse: Dick Martin	2008-2009	A	4787 Riverview Road Atlanta, GA 30327 770-952-1604 ngpinc@comcast.net	For reasons that will be apparent to all, Barbara began her career as a model. Before moving to her second career, Barbara had been a runway model for Calvin Klein and landed a small part in the movie "Wanda" She was the teller who gave the bank robber all the money. Ever since then she has been in the business of raising money - on behalf of not-for-profit institutions.
--	-----------	---	--	--

Cy Malone

The only father and son members who were each presidents of our club. Cy is a named partner in the law firm of Freisem, Macon, Swann and Malone. Cy is a litigator and has spent much of his career representing automotive dealers.

Phone: (404) 974-4846 □ Fax: (404) 266-3458 □ Email:
cmalone@fmsmlaw.com

Practice Areas

Commercial litigation
Commercial transactions
Vehicle sales, rental and leasing law

General Representation:

Since 1974, C. Cyrus Malone has been continuously engaged in representing clients in commercial transactions in Georgia and several other states. Cy's practice has included the negotiation and structuring of over sixty (60) business acquisitions and sales in a number of different states. Cy also works on a daily basis with a number of clients on a variety of general business issues for small to medium sized corporate clients located both in Georgia and other states.

Commercial Litigation:

Cy's practice includes an active civil litigation practice, primarily focused on commercial litigation, in both state and federal courts in Georgia and other states. His trial experience includes the successful completion of hundreds of motions and trials as well as appeals in state and federal courts. Areas of expertise include the enforcement of contracts, including loans, sales, secured transactions, leasing, real and personal property law, and other areas.

Transportation Related Representation:

Cy actively represents a number of local automobile dealerships in the Atlanta, Georgia area as well as truck lessors and rental companies. From his association with such trade associations as the Georgia Car and Truck Rental and Leasing Association, Cy maintains an active link with companies engaged in the transportation industry.

Law Firm Position:

Partner

Education:

University of Georgia - BA 1971 □ Emory University School of Law – JD 1974

Member:

State Bar of Georgia; Georgia Supreme Court; Georgia Court of Appeals; United States District Court Northern District of Georgia; United States Court of Appeals - Eleventh Circuit; United States Court of Appeals – Fifth Circuit.

The Reverend A. Coile Estes is a native of Decatur, Georgia, and grew up in Decatur Presbyterian Church. She holds a B.A. degree in political science from the University of Georgia, a Juris Doctor from Emory University School of Law, and a Master of Divinity from Columbia Theological Seminary. In June, she began serving as Interim Pastor of Madison Presbyterian Church.

Upon graduation from Columbia Seminary, she accepted a call as Associate Pastor of First (Scots) Presbyterian Church in Charleston, South Carolina. While there, she was one of the founding members of the Shepherd's Center of Charleston, an interfaith educational opportunity for senior adults, and she also served as President of the Charleston Interfaith Crisis Ministry, a ministry for the homeless that includes a night shelter, a soup kitchen, and family, medical and vocational services. □ □ In June 1993, Rev. Estes accepted a call to be pastor of Morningside Presbyterian Church in Atlanta and served there for nine years. During that time, the church sent mission teams to Honduras, built several Habitat houses, started a church preschool, and began a major renovation of the church's physical facilities. She spent two years as Director of Hospital Development Services for RTI Donor Services, a tissue donation and recovery organization, where her responsibilities included chaplaincy, hospital development, and legislative affairs. She then served in an interim position at Church of the Hills Presbyterian Church in Johns Creek, a suburb in North Atlanta. Rev. Estes has also served as an adjunct professor at Columbia Theological Seminary.

As a member of Greater Atlanta Presbytery, Rev. Estes has served on the Committee on Ministry as well as the Council of Presbytery. She served on the Board of Trustees of Thornwell Home and School for Children in Clinton, South Carolina, chairing the committee on Board Relations. She served on the search committee for a new president of Thornwell in 2000. She is a member of the Midtown Atlanta Rotary Club where she has chaired the Membership Committee and the Program Committee. She was the 2005-2006 President of the Club. A long-time supporter of historic preservation, Rev. Estes has published in that field and spoken at several conferences on preserving historic religious buildings.

Rev. Estes is married to Michael Mears, a criminal defense attorney who was formerly Director of the Georgia Public Defender Standards Council. He is now a Professor and Associate Dean at John Marshall Law School in Atlanta.